

About Artist League

The mission of Artist League Studios is to redefine the role of the 21st century artist as a self-reliant visionary optimist with the means to effectively communicate their vision.

Edward Lentsch created the model for Artist League in 1999, and in 2005 started development of his 10,000 square foot space in the Minneapolis warehouse district, now the home of Artist League Studios. Lentsch, a successful mid-career painter, has used 30 years experience as an artist in the fine art business to create a model. His model uses this experience to offer tools and innovations useful to fine art professionals for their continuing success.

The staff of Artist League Studios is compiled of emerging artists and a variety of skilled and diverse professionals. With a knowledgeable staff and spacious facility we can offer products and services that are customized individually for each client.
